Armstrong Education: edTPA

"The Stanford Center for Assessment, Learning, and Equity (SCALE) has partnered with the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education (AACTE) and Pearson to create and deliver a reliable and valid performance assessment system for enhancing the quality of teachers in the United States. SCALE developed a pre-service teacher assessment system that is nationally available for states and teacher preparation programs to use in program improvement, licensure, and accreditation." Regulation
The following outlines the language in the official GaPSC rule relative to edTPA: 505-3-.01 REQUIREMENTS AND STANDARDS FOR APPROVING EDUCATOR PREPARATION PROVIDERS AND EDUCATOR PREPARATION PROGRAMS. (3) GENERAL REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO ALL EDUCATOR PREPARATION PROVIDERS AND EDUCATOR PREPARATION PROGRAMS. (e) (5.) (ii) GaPSC-approved educator preparation providers shall require candidates enrolled in initial teacher preparation programs at the baccalaureate level or higher and scheduled to complete programs after September 1, 2015, to attempt the state-approved content pedagogy assessment prior to program completion. A passing score on the state-approved content pedagogy assessment is not required for program completion; however, a passing score is required for state certification. See GaPSC Rule 505-2-.26, CERTIFICATION AND LICENSURE ASSESSMENTS and GaPSC Rule 505-2-.04, INDUCTION CERTIFICATE.
